

LOUISVILLE DAILY COURIER

MORNING EDITION.

VOLUME 33.

LOUISVILLE, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY MORNING, AUGUST 14, 1861.

NUMBER 39.

DAILY COURIER,

LOUISVILLE:

WEDNESDAY MORNING...AUGUST 14.

MILITARY.

[All notices published under this heading will be charged five cents per line—payable in advance.]

Attention, Louisville Zouaves!

You are hereby notified to meet at your Armory THIS (Wednesday) AFTERNOON, at 4 o'clock, in full dress uniform and equipments, for inspection and parade.

By order of the Captain.

GEORE N. JACKSON, C. C.

Attention, Clay Chasseurs!

You are hereby notified to meet at your Armory THIS (Wednesday) AFTERNOON, at 4 o'clock, in full dress uniform and equipments, for inspection and parade.

By order of the Captain.

W. J. HAMILTON, Treasurer.

Attention, Newcomb Guards.

You are hereby requested to appear at your Armory in full dress uniform, at 4 o'clock, on Friday evening, to receive inspection and inspection for parade.

By order of the Commanding Officer.

JAS. N. WALLACE, C. O.

The Citizen Guards.

You are hereby notified to appear at your Armory in full dress uniform, at 4 o'clock, on Saturday morning.

By order of the Captain.

E. H. BIGGS, Captain Commanding Citizen Guards.

and dials.

The Courier at Nashville.

Messrs. GREEN & CO., are the sole and exclusive agents of the Courier at Nashville. They will deliver it to regular subscribers and supply it to dealers and newsboys.

dit.

The Courier at St. Louis.

The Louisville Courier can be found in St. Louis at Willie H. Gray's, North-west corner of Third and Olive streets, opposite the Post Office.

W. H. GRAY.

Grand Regimental Parade.

The different companies composing the Second Regiment of the KENTUCKY STATE GUARD, will have a grand parade this afternoon, under command of Lieut. Colonel MORRIS, Major SYMERS having kindly waived his right to command for the occasion. The parade was first proposed by the Citizen Guards, the company formerly commanded by Lieut. Col. MORRIS. He has resigned his commission, and the company being desirous of showing their high appreciation of him as a soldier and a gentleman, having taken this method of doing so. This parade will evidently be the finest military display ever made in the city, as some twelve companies will be in the ranks.

The line will form on Jefferson street, the right resting on Fifth, and will move at 5 o'clock, p. m.; up Jefferson to Second; down Second to Main; down Main to Sixth; out Sixth to Walnut; down Walnut to Eighth; out Eighth to Chestnut; up Chestnut to First; out First to Broadway; down Broadway to Sixth; down Sixth to Walnut; up Walnut to Second; down Second to Jefferson, and down Jefferson to the Court-House.

CAMP BOONE.—From a gentleman direct from Camp Boone, we learn, that yesterday was a grand gala day at the Camp.—The pretty girls from all portions of the country, were arriving at the Camp when our informant left, bringing with them baskets of provisions, fruits, and all the luxuries of the season for the gallant volunteers from Kentucky, who went forth to fight in the glorious cause of liberty. A place had been arranged for a dance, and yesterday evening they waltzed on the light fantastic toe! Our informant also says the boys there are in the best spirits, and enjoying excellent health, and that every thing there is quiet and orderly.

We understand from reliable authority that certain members from the Home Guard are to be detailed to carry the arms sent by the Government to Hoskins in Garrard county, to East Tennessee.

We further understand that the arms for a company of "Home Guards" have just been received by a young gentleman living in Franklin county, Kentucky.

A false FAIRFIELD.—Mr. W. M. Duval, who arrived from Camp Boone last evening, requests us to contradict the paragraph that appeared in the Louisville Democrat that a "Fairfield outrage." He says there was no foundation whatever for the paragraph, and that nothing of the sort has yet been heard of at Camp Boone. The Democrat had better tell it got its information.

We have neglected to call attention to the advertisement of the Henry Female College, at Newcastle, Ky. We would say, however, that if great experience, untiring industry, correct and honorable deportment will insure success, then may we look for great success from the labors of Dr. Leonard and his daughters in the College.

THE GUIDE OF THE "GRAND ARMY."—A dispatch from Weldon, North Carolina, August 5, announces the arrival there of Capt. John E. Bacon, having in charge the traitor Bowditch, who guided the grand army to Bull Run on the 21st. The guide, it appears, could not keep up with the grand army on the way back to Washington.

The Lexington (Va.) Gazette speaks favorably of a "seven shooter" revolving pistol, every part of which was made at the Rockbridge Foundry, on Irish Creek, by Mr. Keese. It is made after the pattern, but is far superior to Colt's gun.

According to the report of the Rebel Secretary of War, sent to the Congress at Richmond, they have 194 regiments in the field, and 32 battalions. This is to be increased to 350 regiments.

HEAVY CAVALRY.—Alexander James, a member of Captain Sander's Cavalry Company from Smith county, Tenn., weighs three hundred and forty-seven pounds.

Eldred has the best photograph in the city. Copies for sale at his gallery, No. 409 Main street.

When the people speak out let the Lincoln phalanx tremble, for their reign is shortened and their doom is certain.

SUPPRESSING DEMOCRATIC PAPERS.—The Democratic Standard, published in Concord, N. H., one of the ablest papers in the North, was suppressed on the 8th inst., by mob violence, at the instance of the Lincoln officials, of course. They were a cowardly set of ruffians, and the leaders should be remembered. The offense of the Standard was telling the plain truth.

Our dispatches yesterday herald another fit of the irrepressibles—the destruction of the types and press of the Bangor, Me., Democrat, an able, patriotic, truth telling paper, which scored the Abolitionists on all occasions, and exposed the iniquity of the Administration in prosecuting the sectional war.

The Dayton, O., Empire would have been muzzled long ago but for the wholesome fears of certain irrepressible leaders who were duly informed that they would be held personally responsible for any accident to the Empire.

A correspondent at Lexington informs us that the account of the difficulty between Wm. H. Daniels and Wm. McDowell, copied into this paper from the Observer and Reporter, was incorrect in several particulars, and did injustice to Mr. John J. McAfee. It seems that a political difficulty occurred between Daniels and McDowell, that Dr. Young placed in the hands of McDowell a pistol, and after the exchange of several shots, Daniels fled. McDowell in the meantime closing on him. At the same time Mr. McAfee, a warm personal friend of Daniels, made an ineffectual attempt to give Daniels a pistol, and being unable to accomplish his purpose, and supposing that his friend was mortally wounded, fired one shot at Mr. Bowditch, who was at the act of beating Daniels over the head with his pistol. We are further informed that the statement that it was with difficulty that the crowd was restrained from hanging McAfee, is without foundation.

The Kentucky Battalion is now very pleasantly situated, and a better and more hopeful feeling animates officers and men than at any previous time. Several changes in the organization have occurred recently that I have not heretofore noticed.

Lieut. Wm. H. Rowan was born to be promoted to the captaincy of the "Bastard Guards."

Capt. R. is of good old Kentucky stock, famed in the annals of the nation, being the son of Hon. John Rowan, former Minister to Naples, while his grandfather was the distinguished jurist and Senator, H. W. Morgan was chosen 1st Lieutenant, and James W. McLaughlin 2d Lieutenant.—The vacancy of 3d Lieutenant in the Corn wall Guards has been filled by the election of H. Howard.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The fact is, it is extremely dangerous, that hardly know how to treat it. If we do not starve them out, we shall be compelled to make war upon them.

But such is the idea of subduing the South by the strong arm of Northern power, that other idea, the bright and boastful one of starving them out, is still more so. The

Very Latest News.

The Battle in Missouri—The South Triumphant—Henry Loss, General, McCullough and Price Reported Killed—Retreat of the Federals.

Following the many false reports of battles in Missouri, this morning the telegraph furnishes accounts of an engagement in which it is clear the Federal troops sustained a severe defeat.

Major General Lyon was killed at the head of his column, and it is reported that Generals McCullough and Price, or the Southern troops, were killed. Official dispatches to Gen. Fremont, at St. Louis, admit the loss of 800 of the Federals, and that General Siegel, after falling back to Springfield, continued his retreat towards Rolla, where he expected reinforcements.

It will be observed that a convenient informant, in the shape of Gen. Fremont's messenger, is introduced, who relates some remarkable exploits of the Federal troops, but of course his statements must be received cautele.

Brutly, here is what we gather from the Administration account: Lyon with 8,000 Federals attacked 33,000 Southern troops, eight miles from Springfield. After an engagement of several hours, in which Lyon, the commander, was killed, Siegel, who succeeded him, ordered a retreat to Springfield. When last heard from he was still retreating towards Rolla, a distance of 130 miles. The loss of some artillery and 800 of the Federals is admitted.

The statement that Siegel drove the Southern troops into their encampment and then retreated for fear he would be cut off, is sheer nonsense. The truth is, the Federal troops were badly whipped, but this cannot be known until we get intelligence via Memphis.

Railroad Accident—Louisvillians Killed and Wounded.

A dispatch from New Orleans informs us of a railroad accident in Virginia, near Richmond, by which a number of Louisvillians were killed and wounded. They belonged, we believe, to Capt. Fitzhugh's company. The names of the injured are printed in the telegraph column.

The Louisville Zouaves, one of the companies composing the Second Regiment of the Kentucky State Guard, were out to drill last night, with 80 members in their ranks.

We are permitted to copy the following extract from a letter from a reliable source, to a friend in this city:

ALEXANDRIA, Mo., Aug. 8, 1861.

* * * The country is still in a state of intense excitement. Martin Green's command, of some three hundred State troops, gave Colone Moore's Regiment of Home Guards, about eight hundred strong, battle on Monday evening, driving out of Athens, killing and wounding some thirty. Moore was reinforced by two Regiments of troops from Keokuk, when the State troops retired from the ground, losing some twelve killed and wounded, and fifteen horses. John Roberts is badly wounded; also young Hunter, of Waterloo, and a son of John Thompson.

Charles Harr and Jacob Fine headed a party and took your father prisoner, detaining him three days. I brought suit against the two for $1000 damages, and recovered all the money they had taken, plus $1000 dollars damages. You have no idea of the enormity of the depredations committed by these scoundrels. Neither age nor sex are spared from their outrage and insults. Tell the friends South, that Missouri is now bleeding and in chains, but not subdued nor quenched.

It will be seen by the following from the Nashville Union and American, of yesterday, that Gen. Lee has been heard from:

THE CAMPAIGN IN VIRGINIA—RUMOR OF ANOTHER BATTLE.—Passengers who came down upon the Central train yesterday evening, report that Gen. Lee and Gen. Rosecrans, on the 20th, started to go to the advantage of each other in an advanced position. Gen. Lee reached the point in dispute with two regiments a few hours in advance of his adversary, who had four regiments. A battle ensued, in which the enemy were driven from the field with a loss of ten men, while the Federals lost no less on our side. Gen. Lee, however, was fortifying the pass he had gained, near Big Spring, in Pocahontas county, fifteen miles from Hendersville. Big Spring commands the turnpike road from Kinston to Lewisburg, and also to the Central Railroad.

The Fulton, (Missouri) Telegraph, of the 9th, chronicles the following feats of the Louisville Journal's friends among the Union loving people in Missouri. Can't the Journal, and its equally virtuous friend, Joe Holt, say something about this?

FROM THE WESTERN BORDER.—HOW OUR CITIZENS ARE PROTECTED.—A correspondent writing to us on business from Western Missouri, on Aug. 8th, says: "The Jay-hawks have nearly ruined the border counties, immediately south of having taken all watch kept in Westport, Harrisonville, and Morrisstown. On one occasion they went to a man's house, who the supper, and money, and not finding the man at home, they stripped the clothing of his daughter, and not finding them, they stripped her clothes off, and in this condition made her kiss a big buck hogger, and at another place and another time, they amused themselves by cutting off a man's ears—a Mr. Young, of Westpoint, in Bates county, Missouri."

The Frankfort (Ky) Yeoman, of yesterday, has the following:

PROGRESS OF THE REACTION.—The self-styled Union party have secured a large majority in both branches of the General Assembly. But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the Congressional election on the 20th, June, their majority was reduced to about 55,000. At the election, 5th August, the majority of June 20, was whittled down, as we conjecture from the returns thus far received, about one half. We are, however, confident we believe, will reverse this ratio of strength and vanquish the Union party.

But their strength in the Legislature does not correspond with their relative popular strength. At the Border Convention election on the 4th of May, they claimed a majority of over 100,000 votes. At the